At Least 20,000 People Were in Attendance This Morning.

HEAR MEN OF NOTE

Secretary Wilson Suggests Certain Farm Products for Feed of Stock.

LAUD THE PRESIDENT

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Studebaker Theater was filled with men and women from every state in the union this morning for the second day's session of the convention of the National Live Stock association. From 9 o'clock in the morning till noon, the members of the organization listened to a series of addresses full of eloquence, sincerity and valuable information. Twenty thousand people were present.

Ex-Secretary of Agriculture Morton and Ex-Congressman Wm. Springer delivered the principal address at today's session of the convention. Mr. Morton made a vigorous attack on the Grouse anti-oleomargarine bill. He said the prime object of the bill was to kill the butterline and oleomargarine interests at the instigation of the manufacturers and commercial dairymen for purely mercenary motives. The farmers he said did not favor the measure.

Stock Show Opens
Chicago, Dec. 4.—More than 1,000 delegates to the fifth annual convention of the National Live Stock association met today at the Studebaker theater. The men present, it is estimated, represent a working capital of more than $1,000,000. Fourteen governors of states have accepted the association's invitation and will be present some time during the convention. Governor Yates, welcomes the stockmen.

Thirty-eight states and territories are represented by delegates. New Hampshire was not counted on to send representatives, but three stock raisers from that far eastern state reported today. Oklahoma is represented by eight delegates, and W. K. Knipe will present resolutions asking congress to make a state of the territory.

President John W. Springer delivered the annual address. He outlined the policy of the association on important legislation to come before congress. The manner of disposing of public lands he declared should be changed by the government as soon as practicable. A commissioner of live stock in the Department of Agriculture, a law requiring shoddy to be labeled, maintenance of the duty on wool and hides and the liberal use of printer's ink by the stock producer were some of the things mentioned in Mr. Springer's comprehensive speech.

Annual reports of the secretary, Charles F. Martin, and the executive committee followed Mr. Springer. In the afternoon every state represented was heard from in short talks.

Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson addressed the convention on "Value of Mixed Live Stock Husbandry to the Farmer." The convention will remain in session until Friday.

SANITARIUM AT WAUKESHA BURNS

New Building Worth $30,000 Destroyed—Spark from a Chimney Ignited Tar Roof.

Waukesha, Wis., December 4.—The new Waukesha Spring sanitarium, which within a few weeks would have been completed and open to the public as a model institution of its kind, was destroyed by fire which broke out on the roof of the third story at ten o'clock last night.

The loss is $30,000, one-half of which will fall on the different contractors of the building. The insurance is $30,000.

A spark from the chimney ignited the tar roof, which had just been put on, and, being fresh, burned rapidly. Last night for the first time the steam heating apparatus was tested and it was from this cause that the fire had its origin.

The fire department of Waukesha was utterly unable to combat the flames. Feeble streams of water that had not sufficient power to reach the top of the building were played upon it successfully. It was impossible to add additional power through fear of bursting the mains and seriously crippling the system.

Hundreds of people stood on the grounds of the sanitarium and for four hours watched the building slowly burn, every citizen among them regretting that the department labored under such a serious handicap. The city's one fire engine was of little use and in a desperate resolve to save the building Milwaukee was called upon forty minutes after the fire was discovered.

Miss Lena Siebel returned to the city yesterday from a visit in Water-

WAS A BUSY DAY IN THE U. S. SENATE

Annual Report of Secretary Gage Received—A Number of Petitions on Anarchy Were Presented.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—This was distinctly a busy day in the senate. The pomp of the last two days was entirely lacking. After the reading of the minutes a number of annual reports were submitted among them that of Secretary of the Treasury and the isthmian canal commission recommending the Nicaraguan route to the committee on the isthmian canal. Among the petitions presented were a number on anarchy submitted by Penrose of Pennsylvania and Fairbanks, of Indiana.

AN EPIDEMIC OF SMALL POX RAGES

Wausaukee Has Five New Cases—Shows No Sign of Abating in Chilton and Escanaba.

Marquette, Wis., Dec. 4.—There are five very pronounced cases of smallpox in the town of Wausaukee. As fast as the cases develop they were taken to the pest house out of town.

Entire Family Ill
La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 4.—The entire family of Chris Doehle, a prominent Pine Creek farmer, numbering six persons, has been stricken with smallpox. The disease was first contracted by a hired man, from whom it was taken by the children. The approaching accouchment of Mrs. Doehle makes here case a serious one. Indirectly this adds six more victims to the New Hartford wedding, where the disease appeared.

Chilton Family Afflicted
Chilton, Wis., Dec. 4.—Smallpox has broken out in the family of John Schabel of this place. Only one member of the family is ill with the disease and it is not probable that it will become epidemic.

Epidemic of Disease Continues
Escanaba, Mich., Dec. 4.—The smallpox epidemic in this county shows no signs of abating. A woman named McLain and her three children have the disease.

GRADING ON THIS END HAS BEGUN

Work on the Beloit, Delavan Lake & Janesville Electric Line Being Rushed with Vigor.

The grading on this end of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville electric line was started yesterday near the Choate-Hollister factory in Spring Brook. They grade will run west to the Northwestern tracks where a cut will be made under the tracks. It will then run south east to the Beloit road, striking it about three miles south of the city.

The Hayes Bros. Co. have a large crew engaged on this work and will rush the grading along as rapidly as possible. A large portion of the grading between this city and Beloit is already completed and it will take but a short time to finish up what yet remains to be done outside of the city limits.

Track laying has just begun south of Beloit and it is expected that the rails between Beloit and Rockford will all be in position by Christmas. The work of track laying will be rushed along by the use of a St. Paul construction train. The track being built the same width as the ordinary track and heavy rails being used. Railroad cars can be successfully used for track laying.

Christ Church Xmas Sale
The ladies of Christ Church Guild today had the pleasure of adding $150.56 to their treasury as the net proceeds of the Christmas sale and supper held yesterday afternoon at the parish house. The sale was a most gratifying success.

BEET SUGAR IS A PAYING PRODUCT

Sample from the Menominee Falls Factory Praised by the Madison Experts.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 4.—There has just come to the experiment station of the agricultural college of the University of Wisconsin, a 100-lb. sack of pure white granulated sugar. The legend on the sack reads as follows: "Wisconsin Sugar Company, 100 lbs. net. Extra fine granulated sugar. From Menominee Falls, Wis."

"This means," says Professor Henry, "that at last there is in Wisconsin a beet sugar factory turning out sugar daily by the ton. Credit is due President R. G. Wagner, who has carried the matter through so far, and, fortunately, many farmers have furnished him the first-class beets; this being true, a product of first-class granulated sugar is not so surprising after all—it is a natural sequence."

"The Menominee Falls factory is splendidly equipped and is capable of working up 400 or 500 tons of beets per day. There is money in the business for both the farmer and the capitalist. Mr. Wagner stands ready to interest capital to build more factories if the people will grow the beets."

MAY EXTEND SHOOTING SEASON TO SAVE LIVES OF DEER HUNTERS

Proposed New Law to Make the Season Two Months and Allow the Killing of Bucks Only—Pot Hunters to Receive Harsh Treatment.

Milwaukee, Dec. 4.—"The slaughter of the innocents," both men and deer, in the wilds of northern Wisconsin will be abolished if the bill being framed by Senator Barney Eaton of Cudahy passes the next session of the legislature. Senator Eaton has all of his life been a hunter, has spent many seasons in the Rockies, and several weeks in the northern part of the state this season hunting deer and studying the conditions which render possible the killing and maiming of fort-two innocent persons on pleasure bent. The aim of the new bill is to protect both the hunter and preserve the game, by providing that only bucks be shot and that the season for hunting the deer be extended to cover a period of two months instead of twenty days as at present. Heavy penalties are to be prescribed for the killing of the doe, and "pot-hunters" will receive harsh treatment. The extending of the season is to avoid crowding of the woods and thus imperiling the lives of the hunters, and the senator claims that as many bucks can be taken in two months as in one month and does in the present time of twenty days. The preservation of the doe is claimed will multiply the number of deer in the forest and more than repay the hunter for his patience and foresight.

In view of the fact that 70,000 applied for licenses to hunt in this state since the buck season opened September 1, it is evident that a law for the protection of both game and hunter is an imperative necessity. From 10 to 20 per cent. of the applicants for licenses were probably deer hunters, who were inexperienced and liable to pull the trigger at anything in sight, be it man or beast. Many of the recent deaths of men were due to shooting at moving branches behind which deer were supposed to be concealed.

CROKER GIVES UP HIS LEADERSHIP

Says He is Old and Unable to Stand the Tremendous Strain Any Longer.

New York, December 4.—After an interview lasting more than an hour with Senator Tim Sullivan at the Democratic club last night, Richard Croker admitted that his leadership of Tammany Hall was at an end. "I am old and worn out," said Mr. Croker. "I will do little leading after this. I am tired of being the wheel horse for everybody in the organization."

"I can't stand it any longer. The work I have to do in that position is enormous. Nobody knows what I have had to stand since the opening of the campaign. Since the election it has been even worse."

"A younger and more active man should be at the head of Tammany hall. He should be a man who can remain here and stand the brunt of the battle throughout the year. I can say nothing as to who is the proper man, but he will be found when the time comes."

Croker denied again that he aspired to be a national leader. He did not think Mr. Shepard would be the state leader, because Mr. Shepard was out of politics. Mr. Croker further said:

"It is useless to inquire into the causes of our defeat last month. One cause was sufficient—the opposition of all the newspapers in New York to Tammany Hall."

"As things were, the republicans could have put up a ticket of their own and won out. Their democratic support amounted to little. The Greater New York Democracy could have been dispensed with easily. It was simply impossible to win with the whole press of New York against us. The charges against Tammany reached all of the people; our defense was heard by only a few. That is the whole story."

RUNAWAY GIRL IS UNDER ARREST

Norfolk, Va., December 4.—Nell Crosby, a young woman whose disappearance from Elizabeth, N. C., on Nov. 23, caused a great sensation was arrested today in company with a man at Wilcox, N. C. James Wilson, the girl's fiancé is under arrest here on suspicion of having murdered her. Nell's father is a wealthy planter.

WHEAT, CORN, OATS GO UP SOARING

Wheat the Highest Since August, and Corn the Highest in Over Nine Years.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 4.—Scenes like those of the days of the Phillips corner were enacted on the board of trade today when May wheat, corn and oats indulged in sensational jumps due to the influence of outside holdings and the indisposition to sell on the face of an advance. Wheat went to 79 1/2, the highest since August; corn to 67, the highest in nine years, and oats to 44 7/8.

GOOD TESTIMONY FOR MRS. BONINE

Washington, Dec. 4.—Dr. Ruffin, the expert, who tested Mrs. Bonine's slippers and wrapper for blood marks was recalled when the trial was resumed this morning and testified that there was blood on both the articles, indicating that there was a struggle. His testimony throughout was favorable to the defendant.

Miss Mabel Jackman, who has been spending the summer with her mother in Buffalo, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. G. Wheeler, and will spend two or three months in this city.

AMERICAN LEAGUE DROPS MILWAUKEE

Matt Killilea Still Retains His Interest and Will Manage the Team in St. Louis.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 4.—After a session lasting until past 11 o'clock last night the American League managers finally succeeded in settling the details of the transfer of the Milwaukee franchise to St. Louis. M. R. Killilea purchased the interest of his brother Henry who was the majority stockholder in the old club. M. R. Killilea will continue as the president of the transferred club and as the principal owner, while Fred Gross will retain his interest in the new Browns, and will probably be continued as the club's secretary.

GEN. ALGER HAS HAD A RELAPSE

Recurrence of Trouble for Which He Spent Several Months This Year in Carlsbad.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 4.—General Russell A. Alger, former secretary of war, has had a relapse, being a renewal of the attacks of gallstone trouble, the first since his return from Carlsbad, Germany, where he spent several months this year in the hope of securing permanent relief. His condition alarms his friends, though his physicians insisted today that General Alger's condition is not hopeless.

TOTAL FOR SEASON REACHES $10,000

Badger Football Receipts—Wisconsin's Share of Chicago Game $5,000—To Drop Base Ball

Madison, Wis., December 4.—Graduate Manager Kilpatrick announced today that the total receipts for the football season just closed footed up to $10,000, of which $5,000 was received from the Chicago game. The athletic association is now $1,500 out of debt.

It was announced that a meeting of the athletic board would be called shortly for the purpose of deciding whether or not baseball should be dropped this year. There is a strong sentiment against keeping up this branch of athletics any longer, and it is highly probable that the board will vote to drop it.

There is comparatively little interest taken in the game at Wisconsin and as a result few candidates report for work and the attendance at the games is poor. The baseball team has been a constant expense to the athletic association. Another argument being urged against its continuation is the fact that there is no coach available now that Phil King has decided to leave.

TO PAY CREDITORS NEARLY $100,000

Decision in the Milwaukee Commercial Bank Case, Brings Stockholders to Time.

Milwaukee, Wis., December 4.—Under the decision of Judge Elliott of the circuit court a number of creditors of the defunct Commercial bank which went the way of another financial institution during the panic of 1893, will receive payment in full for all their claims against the bank, and there will be a surplus from which the stockholders may reimburse themselves. The last statement of Receiver Thompson showed that dividends amounting to 62 1/2 per cent. had been paid to the creditors. This amounted to $60,000. In addition there was sufficient money on hand to pay another 15 per cent dividend. This will leave 22 1/2 per cent to pay to satisfy all claims. That will amount to about $22,000. The remainder of the $132,000 collected under a previous agreement will go to the stockholders. Some of this money, however, is regarded as uncollectable.

STILL HELD BY THE BRIGANDS

PRAISE FOR THE FIRST MESSAGE

Official Communication to Congress Shows Hand of Master.

GOOD STATE PAPER

Senators Spooner and Quarles and Representative Cooper Are Much Pleased.

BROAD AND FEARLESS

Washington, D. C., December 4.—President Roosevelt's message to congress has won universal and enthusiastic approval at the national capital. Not for many years has a similar state paper aroused greater interest or met with a warmer reception. The praise accorded it comes from men of both political parties. So far not a word of criticism has appeared from any quarter.

Shows Masterful Force
Few presidents have ever shown the masterful force in not only suggesting ideas for the consideration of congress, but the logic and power displayed by the president in supporting ideas he has advanced. Upon all sides there is praise for the excellence of his discussion of anarchism, and the good sense and discretion with which he handles the insular questions and matters relating to the tariff, reciprocity and finance.

Democrats Also Approve
Democrats warmly approve, because they discern not the slightest trace of partisanship—no blowing of bugles, no seeking of advantage, no mere rhetoric to catch the galleries. Republicans are enthusiastic because of the strength, the grasp, the frankness, the wisdom which they everywhere perceive.

Eastern men are pleased because of the conservatism which they read in every line—conservatism without timidity.

Western men are delighted because the President has written like a western man, with full understanding of their conditions and favorite projects.

"He is not a New Yorker, but belongs to the region west of the Mississippi River," is their frequent comment.

Senator Spooner Pleased
Senator Spooner spoke in terms of high praise of the message generally, and said:

"The message is admirably written, vigorous and definite in all the propositions stated. It is bold, yet conservative, and on the whole a great state paper."

That part of the message which deals with the Indian problem is especially attractive to Senator Quarles, who has devoted a summer to a study of that question.

"I regard the message as a literary marvel," said Senator Quarles. "It is a strong paper in its discussion of all the public questions handled, and I am especially pleased with what the president says in regard to our Indian policy."

Best Cooper Ever Heard
"It is the best written of all the messages of the presidents I have ever read," said Representative Cooper. "It is a message of ideas, cogently put. The president's discussion of anarchism should be read at every fireside in the land. I do not remember to have ever seen a question like that of irrigation, over which there is so much difference of opinion in the country, so fearlessly handled and so logically presented as is that subject in this message."

SNOWFALL BREAKS KANSAS DROUGHT

Wheat Fields Are Relieved by Moisture—Stock is Very Much in Need of Water.

Topeka, Kan., Dec. 4.—Some of the dry districts of the state were greatly relieved by snow, which fell today at Salina, Larned, Sylvan Grove and Hutchinson. The wheat fields in western Kansas, which were greatly in need of moisture, were generously covered. It has been snowing in northwestern Kansas since noon today. At Marvin, Lencora, Downs, and Stockton the snow is two inches deep.

Lack of water has become a serious proposition throughout the state. If the winter snows do not relieve the situation soon farmers will be in great extremities for stock water.

The Capture of Colon
New York, Dec. 9.—The steamer, Finance arrived this morning from Colon. She was at Colon when the liberals captured that city. The officer of the vessel says that the liberals rode into the city on the trains as individual passengers and when they arrived in the town they began firing their rifles until they intimidated the government officials and soon had control.

Moses Kusche and family left yesterday for their future home in California.

TEACHERS TO MEET ON FRIDAY NEXT

The Rock County Association Will Go
Through an Interesting Program
—Some Interesting Papers.

This week educational interest centers in the annual meeting of the Rock County Teachers' Association which is to be held at the high school building in this city, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 6 and 7. The meeting will be open Friday evening with a lecture by William Hawley Smith, the famous educator and the author of "Evolution of Dots." Mr. Smith has been heard here several times and is a prime favorite. He is one of the most popular lecturers who ever appeared in the city and he will be greeted by an immense audience. This fact is assured because Mr. Smith's lecture is one of the attractions on the high school lecture course.

The general session of the meeting will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock and Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. During the morning session there will be music by the first grade of the Washington school and the second grade of the Adams school. The first part of the afternoon from 1:45 to 3:30 will be devoted to section meetings and pupils of the local schools will also appear at this time, three grades being chosen to illustrate class exercises in the primary section. In the grammar grade section, Mrs. Janet B. Day and her class will illustrate the value of physical training.

The afternoon general session, which will end with the annual business meeting will be especially interesting from the presence of Miss Maud Summers, of Chicago, who will speak on "The Thought Element in Reading." All arrangements for the meeting are in the hands of the following officers and executive committee of the county association:

Executive Committee
Ex-Officio—County Superintendent, Wm. Ross, Janesville; County Superintendent, David Thorne, Afton; City Superintendent, H. C. Buell, Janesville; City Superintendent, F. E. Converse, Beloit.

One of the happy features of the meeting will be the luncheon which is to be served in the gymnasium at 12 o'clock and all visiting teachers will be guests of honor. Miss Hostetter, the teacher of domestic science, and the principals of the various schools form the general committee having in charge the luncheon which will be served by the girls of the high school cooking classes. It will be the first time that the teachers of the county have been entertained in this manner and will doubtless be a very happy event. Preparations are being made to entertain about 200 visitors.

A Serious Accident.

George Gsell, a fireman in the employ of the Northwestern railroad, was the victim of a peculiar accident yesterday morning. While on his run to this city he jumped off the engine while it was standing on the siding and crawled under the engine to examine the draft to the fire box. While he was looking into the ash pan, the engineer not knowing he was down there, turned on the blow-off cock. The result was that Gsell had his face covered with hot ashes and steam and had three fingers embedded in his right eye ball. He was pulled out from under the engine and cleaned up and made as comfortable as possible. When he reached this city he was taken to Dr. Thorne's office where the three fingers were extricated from the eye and the right side of his face where the steam had burned it attended to. His injuries will lay him up for a couple of weeks.

THE MASQUERADE SEASON IS OPEN

The masquerade season opened happily at Assembly hall last evening, the members of Janesville union, No. 177, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper hangers being the ones to set the ball rolling. The party was a pleasant success, 125 couples of maskers and a large crowd of spectators being present. While there was nothing remarkable about the majority of the costumes some of them were very attractive and everyone had a jolly time, regardless of whether they represented princes or paupers. Much amusement was occasioned by the grand march in which the various costumes were seen at the best advantage.

It was then that the prizes were awarded by the committee of judges who were J. F. Hutchinson, W. Coleman and R. D. Hogan. The following were the winners of the prizes: Best dressed couple, the Misses Myrtle Wales and Nettie Frank; best character costumes, Ed. Winslow and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus; most comical costume, Louis Henke and Mrs. Byron Phelps, negro costumes.

Smith's orchestra played for the dancing in which the spectators joined with the maskers after the grand march. Credit for the success of the party is due the following efficient committee of arrangements: Otto Buege, Walter Rice, Walter Kerry and Ernest Graft.

Mrs. Robert C. Denison went to St. Louis this morning to be present at a family reunion, which is to be held at the home of her parents this week and at which all the members of the family will be present. Mrs. Denison's father is in feeble health. She expects to return home next Tuesday.

Some of the costumes were especially good. During the evening, Mrs. Brace served dainty light refreshments.

THE PROPER WAY TO SHIP POULTRY

Should Be Put in Large Airy Coops to Keep Them in Proper Condition.

Poultry buyers are found in a great many towns of the West where poultry is bought and satisfactory prices are obtained. Such poultry is slaughtered and sent to an eastern market in a dressed condition. There are many localities where there are no buyers of live poultry, and since the local demand is very limited, large lots of poultry cannot be sold unless shipped to some convenient market where there is a demand for them.

A good many buyers furnish coops for their own in which shipments are made and the same returned free by the express companies if a demand is made for them. Poultry shipped in market coops are sent at very much lower rate than those for breeding purposes, and the coops may be heavier and stronger than those so employed. For the benefit of those who may desire to ship poultry to market we give instructions for making the best style of shipping coops.

Coops should be forty-eight inches long, thirty inches wide, twelve inches high for chickens and ducks, and fifteen inches high for turkeys and geese. Use lumber as follows: Use 2x2 for corner posts, or 1x2 will answer. If you cannot get them get 1x4 and rip them in two. Cut six pieces thirty inches long, and nine pieces twelve or fifteen inches long, for each coop; nail the short pieces one at each end; one in the center of the long ones (use 10d wrought nails). Make three of these frames, one for each end and the center. For the bottom use one-half inch boards or lath make the bottom tight (use 6d nails); use 1-x2 strips of lath for sides, ends and top, put them one and one-half inches apart; the width of lath is about right. Leave two laths loose on top in center, or make a door of them to open, in order to put poultry in and take it out now nail a lath around the coops, each end and the center (outside the three frames made first). This will keep the lath from coming off and make the coops stronger. For broilers the coop can be made ten inches high and twenty-four inches wide. This will make a good, strong, light coop.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Lewis Morrison's excellent production of Faust with its brilliant scenic effects and its competent presenting company, pleased a fair sized audience at the Myers Grand last evening. The company and the entire production are practically the same as last season and Faust has certainly never been so well presented in this city. George S. Trimble, who appeared here last season, gives a brilliant interpretation of the part of Mephisto, his rich voice and magnificent stage presence adapting him especially for the part. He was frequently applauded last evening. Marie Winslow was a pleasing Marguerite, Adelle Farwell was amusing in their ready burlesqued part of Martha, Charles Saxon played Faust acceptably and the balance of the parts were well taken. The singing of the male quartet and of the trio was one of the pleasant features of the evening.

There is an unusual interest being manifested among amusement patrons of this city which has spread contagiously as it were, to the class who rarely attend dramatic performances. In the announcement of the coming engagement of the play and it must be confessed the only F. C. Whitney and Edwin Knowles' production of "Quo Vadis" at the Myers Grand tomorrow night. The most elaborate scenic presentation of any theatrical period. It is a notable fact that Whitney & Knowles' production of the great play, unlike any other presentation which has been pirated by a lot of incompetent producers and given in a manner that calls strongly for the condemnation of the press has never lost its value, nor its success been dimmed for an instant by this horde of would-be managers. The public of today is an intelligent factor in realizing and selecting the good from the worthless, and has sustained Messrs. Whitney and Knowles with their patronage and friendship as they recognize the fact, and a most important one it is, that their "Quo Vadis" is the original and only superb scenic production now before the public and that it is the presentation for which Mr. Whitney went the limits of financial outlay in purchasing, giving $50,000 for the production complete, which includes the London scenery, costumes, calcium and mechanical effects.

As there is really more music in "Quo Vadis" than in most of the operas now given, a full chorus of male and female voices will be carried with the organization for the purpose of giving this part of the performance harmony in keeping with the superior excellence of the rest of the production.

A long reservation demand has already been made at the box office for seats for Quo Vadis week, which indicates one of the greatest engagements in the history of the Myers Grand.

"The Man From Mexico," which comes to the Myers Grand next Monday, Dec. 9, is undoubtedly one of the lightest and best laugh producers that has been seen here since "Charles' Aunt" says the Boston Globe. The play is by H. A. DuSouchet, who wrote "My Friend From India." The comedy is very cleverly written and proves conclusively that there can be side splitting comedy without introduction of anything offensive. The company presenting this clean comedy is said to be a wholly competent one.

The seat sale for attractions at the Myers Grand has been transferred from the Peoples' Drug store to the box office of the theater, where it will be held hereafter. Experiment has proved that this plan is much more satisfactory to theater patrons. The seat sale for all attractions will open one day before the date of the attraction, unless otherwise specified, and the box office hours will be from 10 a. m. to 12 m., from 2 to 6 p. m., and from 7 to 8 p. m.

There is more Cataract in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved cataract to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

SOME CHANGES BY THE FIRE POLICE

The fire police held their regular monthly meeting last night at the East Side fire station. They decided to make some additions to their outfit and to purchase a new set of tarpaulins and a set of new hats for service wear.

In order to make the monthly meetings more interesting to the members it was decided to have a number of talks on the use of the patrol wagon and apparatus. A leader will be chosen each month and be limited to fifteen minutes. Dr. Joe Whiting will be the leader of the January meeting.

The patrol with the exception of feed and stable room for the horses and room for the wagon is kept up by the two per cent. tax collected from the insurance companies doing business in this city. It is a very efficient and highly commendable organization.

COOK REFUSED TO LEAVE THE HOUSE

A cook that refused to leave the house after she was discharged was the cause of Chief Hogan being called to a first ward residence on Sunday afternoon. The cook in question received notice to leave last week but when the time came she went up to her room, locked herself in and refused to leave the house. After holding the fort for three days the lady of the house tired of trying to get rid of her so summoned the city marshal. He finally succeeded in getting her out of the room and removing her from the premises.

LUKBAN SUES FOR PEACE.

Insurgent General Willing to Negotiate Terms of Surrender.

Manila, Dec. 4.—Advices from Catbalogan, capital of the island of Samar, say the insurgent general, Lukban, has offered to negotiate terms of surrender with Gen. Smith. To this offer the American commander replied that the time for negotiations had passed.

Five hundred natives of Catbalogan have volunteered to fight the insurgents in order to bring peace to Samar. Of these 100 have been accepted. They are doing scouting duty under command of Lieut. Compton.

At daylight yesterday Lieut. Balnes of the Ninth Infantry attacked and destroyed a rebel fort, inflicting heavy loss.

The American marines are working havoc with the insurgents' cause in the southern part of Samar. Lieut. William B. Fletcher, commanding the gunboat Queros, has destroyed twelve salt manufacturing, thirty-five tons of hemp, twelve tons of rice and several barrios, which served as rendezvous for the insurgents.

Washington, Dec. 3.—According to Manila newspapers, the massacre of company C, Ninth Infantry, on the island of Samar, was planned by deserters from the American army. Two such deserters are known to have acted as spies two days before the massacre.

Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been hailed by women as "a God-send" to their sex. It gives the strength and health upon which happy motherhood depends. It practically does away with the pains of maternity. It enables the mother to nourish the infant life depending on her, and enjoy the hourly happiness of watching the development of a perfectly healthy child.

Mrs. Orrin Stiles, of Downing, Dunn Co., Wis., writes: "I have been intending to write you ever since my baby was born in regard to what your 'Favorite Prescription' has done for me. I cannot praise it enough, for I have not been as well for five years as I now am. In July last I had a baby boy, weight 17 pounds, and I was only sick a short time, and since I got up have not had one sick day. I have not had any internal trouble since I got up. I was not only surprised myself but all of my friends here are surprised to see me so well."

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Threatening tonight, Thursday.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIANS.

Booker Washington has eaten dinner in the white house, and thereby given southern editors abundant opportunity to comment on race inequality, and racial distinctions.

This outcry of the political press of the South was not a surprise, indeed it was expected; but when the religious papers of the South took the same stand as the secular press, we of the North may properly ask what constitutes Southern Christianity?

Opinions have been obtained from the leading ministers and college presidents throughout the "Black Belt," by a North Carolina paper, and these opinions are notable because of their unanimity on the subject of miscegenation, or race admixture.

It is evident that the South possesses a religion which is helpful and elevating, but that it is the Christian religion proclaimed by Paul, is a question.

Paul was criticised and tried because he held that a Gentile Christian was as good in all respects as a Jewish Christian. He was driven out of the cities because he preached salvation to the uncircumcised, but the Christian world today holds up the Pauline doctrine as orthodox. What is the difference between a white and black Christian? Simply one of the color of their skin.

Race prejudice has placed a social barrier between the two colors in the South so strong that even the ministers of the Christian church dare not openly avow what their consciences proclaim as Christian. Ministers everywhere attempt to reflect public opinion of the better classes when this sentiment agrees with their own ideas; whenever this opinion does not coincide with their own views, very few have the courage to proclaim anything, and those few generally find it pleasant to seek new pastures.

Undoubtedly many of these Southern ministers believe in their views on this subject, but many more would not dare to express different opinions if they held them.

There are many religions in the world but only one Christianity, and certainly Christ and Paul have both shown us their attitude on the subject of the equality of man.

A COMPARISON.

There is food for reflection in the summary that can be made of the results of the season's fun in games of foot ball and deer hunting. During the past three weeks in our own state seventeen deer hunters have been killed and over fifty have been more or less seriously injured, while during the entire foot ball season of three months over the entire United States only five have died as the result of the injuries received or aggravated by the game of foot ball. One of these deaths was that of our own Leon Ayers, which can no more be considered the result of playing the game, than of some other accidents.

Then, too, a glance at the pictures of the all-American team will convince anyone that brutalizing tendencies don't predominate in the refinement that shines from such faces.

If we inquire into their collegiate records we find that not only are they all good students, but that some of them actually excel their classmates in the recitation room.

If it were possible to take a glance at the sturdy young athletes twenty years hence, engaged in business pursuits, we might find that the determination developed in "bucking the line," and the alertness in "scrimmages," has helped them to make the necessary advance in the persistent tackling of the merciless world. It is difficult to see where the brutalizing influences go to in the game of foot ball, when one is confronted by the photos and records of such men as go to make up the all-American eleven.

CULTIVATE TASTE.

Some people cultivate a taste for foods they naturally dislike, because it is fashionable. Such persons care more for fashion than they do for their digestion. The best dietetic authority in this country makes the statement that the "cured" and highly flavored cheeses imported into this country are positively injurious. What is the matter with the cheese? Simply this it is not considered fit to eat until it is old enough and rank enough from the gradual process of putrefaction to bury. This is plain English and bold, but the truth which no one can successfully dispute.

Roquefort and Limburger are never adulterated or imitated, simply because their characteristic odors are so vile and strong as to bar attempts at counterfeiting. The flavor resembles smell and both are sufficient to cause a respectable canine to hunt a soap factory.

Every normal stomach and palate repudiates it on sight as they would embalmed beef, moldy bread, or gangreous game, for which some people profess a gusto.

And, now, New York landlords are weeping and gnashing their teeth because they are compelled by a new law to make their tenement buildings sanitary.

Mr. Leslie Stephen is trying to prove that Shakespeare wrote Bacon. Almost enough to cause Ignatious Donnelly to rise from his grave.

It has cost New York a small fortune to elect Seth Low mayor, but it is nothing compared to what it would have cost after Tammany's success.

Riches sometimes take on wings and fly away. There are lots of good people who are never annoyed by watching the flight.

The man who never makes a mistake will bear watching. He is a little too good for the world, and is liable to leave it some day—in debt.

Bessinger of Green Bay the ex-game warden is authority for the statement that he is not murdered as was reported. He ought to know.

Congress having received instructions from the American press on the methods of running the government, will proceed without delay.

Gov. Van Sant has inaugurated a movement which will probably determine which is the strongest, great railroad systems or the state.

While Croker sails over the ocean blue, other Tammany leaders are compelled to get blue hunting jobs at home.

Those disappointing Leonids have undoubtedly heard of Morgan's proclivities, and are remaining secluded.

If the president's message contains 20,000 words it will require a strenuous constitution to digest it.

We might dump the anarchists in the middle of the Pacific and let them select their own island.

It looks as if the foot ball supremacy of the West would have to be settled at the Hague.

War vessels will be useful long after war ceases to exist; to collect bills from Turkey.

Worry never accomplished anything. Let the other fellow worry.

The English seem to be waiting for the Boers to die of old age.

Take time to live for you'll be a long time dead.

Herr Most is not quite so "much" just now.

PRESS COMMENT.

Watertown Republican: They say there'll be a hot time when Bobby stumps the state while Jerry steers appointments and Isaac pays the freight.

Nellville Times: "Ship subsidy" has a sound that is a holy terror to the majority of Americans. Why don't somebody introduce a bill for marine protection? That is all ship subsidy is.

Darlington Journal: Kansas is getting warm again. On Saturday a lumber yard went up in spontaneous combustion at Newton and a can of tomatoes exploded at Atchison.

Appleton Post: The announcement that Gov. La Follette will take to the stump next summer to urge his own renomination may mean that he will take to the woods after the convention is over.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Our vigilant health department chased a million different kinds of microbes into a corner, classified them, anointed them with carpet-sweeper oil, and dismissed them with a benediction.

Sheboygan Telegram: Congratulations to David Nation from all the nation and his relation, on his legal separation from the other half of the Nation, after consideration and meditation with deliberation.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The Hon. Ike Stephenson has much to be thankful for—the special campaign train has called the newspapers' attention away from his violation of the corrupt practice act and his dealings with the county newspapers.

Milwaukee Journal: Perhaps the reason why Gov. La Follette has not put in operation the law for simplifying the system of keeping state accounts, is because he is not a practical business man.

Watertown Republican: Some of our exchanges are trying to make a kind of similarity between Scotland's cow traveling express and a candidate for governor traveling cut-rate. There's a vast difference. The cow didn't know any better.

Hudson Star Times: There was an old woman who was forced to admit that she could not open her mouth without getting her foot in it. After reading what John Strange of Oshkosh has to say about Governor La Follette's law-breaking special campaign train, we are inclined to believe that John Strange is that self same old female.

Lodi Enterprise: There continually comes from the Milwaukee Free

Press the shout "Hail!" The Press is a paper of the La Follette stamp. It talks reform until its few readers should be black in the face, and states most forcibly that it is not in favor of personal abuse. At the same time its columns teem with all kinds of the rankest terms of abuse for those who are not supporters of the governor. Truly your "Uncle Ike" and Gov. La Follette have an able advocate in the Free Press.

CHRISTMAS SALE WAS A SUCCESS

Ladies of the Presbyterian Church Holding a Unique Bazaar

This Afternoon.

The Christmas sale at the Presbyterian church today was a brilliant success and was quite unique. At booths representing the seven ages of woman, purchasers found all kinds of dainty and useful articles. The infants' booth was one of the most popular and all kinds of clothing and toys for the little tots forming a tempting array. The Endeavorers had charge of the school girls' booth where delicious candies were sold and the Mission band, the booth which, with its fancy heart shaped articles represented the age of true love. The housekeeper's booth with its aprons and bags and the wife's booth where table linen, centerpieces and sofa pillows were on sale proved to be exceptionally profitable as money makers and this was also true of the old maid's booth where dainty handkerchiefs, ties and other fancy work found ready buyers. The booth of old age suggested comfort indeed, with knitted shawls and slippers and there were two booths where art work was old on commission. During the afternoon tea and wafers were sold in the old maid's booth. In connection with the sale the ladies served both luncheon and a turkey supper. Both were very elaborate and appetizing, the menu being composed of a great variety of delicious things to eat. At both the luncheon and the supper hour the waiters were kept busy caring for the crowds of people who came hungry and departed more than satisfied.

APPLIED A MATCH TO MASQUERADER

Edward Winslow had a narrow escape last night from being the leading figure in a torchlight parade at the Painters' masquerade. Fortunately he escaped without any bad burns. Mr. Winslow and his wife took the part of Santa Claus and his wife and were dressed in suits covered with cotton batting which is highly inflammable. Along about the middle of the dance of the party Mr. Winslow was standing in the center of the room taking part in a square dance, when a man dressed as a negro, and who had less sense than a mule, walked up behind Mr. Winslow and touched a lighted match to the cotton, which immediately blazed up and threatened to make a living torch of Mr. Winslow. For a minute everyone was excited by the sight of a man on fire. The floor committee came to the rescue and succeeded in smothering the fire before any great harm was done.

The coon who applied the match made a run for the door and succeeded in getting away before the floor committee could get hold of him or learn his name.

It was a close call for Mr. Winslow as his suit burned rapidly. Numbers of people have been burned to death while dressed in the same sort of a suit, where they accidentally caught fire. It hardly seems that any man in his sober senses would attempt such a thing.

Fortunately the floor committee did not lose their heads and made short work of the fire.

HOW TO KEEP MONEY Some good bargains in pocket books. A large assortment of ladies' fine pocket books, gents' card cases and bill books at extremely low prices. Skelly's book store.

PASSENGER TRAIN IN A COLLISION

STRIKES SWITCH ENGINE ON MILWAUKEE ROAD.

Cars Off the Track—Engineer and Fireman Were the Only Ones to Sustain Injuries—Three Wrecking Trains Sent to the Scene of the Accident.

Passengers from this city for Madison Junction, Edgerton, Stoughton and Madison, that depended on the 8:50 on the St. Paul to take them home last night were much disappointed, as the train was over six hours late owing to its being wrecked about fifteen miles out of Chicago.

The train left Chicago at 6 p. m. on time for this city and Madison and thirty minutes later was in the ditch. The train consisted of an engine, baggage, three coaches and a parlor car. The engine and all of the cars were derailed. None of the passengers were injured. Engineer Richard Pritchard of the passenger train was thrown against the back of his cab and his right leg was broken. Fireman John Rubel was bruised slightly.

The cause of the wreck was the carelessness of the engineer in charge of the switch engine. He had just pulled in his engine on a switch from the main track, and failed to clear in time for the passenger to pass. The engine of the Madison train struck a corner of the switch tender and derailed it. The shock caused the passenger engine to leave the track, and the cars behind likewise were derailed.

The passengers on the out-bound train for Madison who were able to go on were picked up by train No. 146, due in Chicago at 8 o'clock, and carried on to Madison several hours late. The passengers on the incoming train were transferred to a special sent out from Chicago during the evening, but it was very much delayed in getting in.

As soon as it was discovered that the road would be tied up until the wrecking crew could relieve the situation, the officials of the St. Paul Road effected an agreement with the Northwestern road whereby that road would allow the Pioneer Limited to run over its road to St. Paul. The train was hauled back to Western avenue, and a special pilot was put in the engine to carry it safely out of the yards. No sooner had it started than its engine ran into an open switch and was derailed. Another engine had to be hooked onto the other end, and the train was hauled back to Fortieth avenue until the second wreckage could be cleared out of the way.

The Janesville and Madison train was in charge of Conductor Thos. Eckles who was uninjured. The engineer and fireman were taken to Chicago and placed in the Monroe hospital.

Miss Charlotte Pritchard and Mrs. Jennie McNaughton were among the passengers from this city on the wrecked train. They said the experience was terrible for a few minutes after the train struck the switch engine. They were going at a high rate of speed when they struck. At the first crash the porter in the parlor car extinguished the gas lights to guard against fire and left the passengers in total darkness. This with the bumping and crashing of the cars made them think the end had come.

The cars were torn from the tracks and dragged some distance before they came to a standstill. Both ladies were considerably shaken up and badly frightened but received no injuries. They lost several small articles during the mix-up, but think they were left in the car and will be found by the railroad employees. They were transferred to the train from Madison to Chicago which returned to this city reaching here about 1:30 a. m.

The train from Chicago to Madison due here at 10:35 this morning was over an hour late on account of the condition of the track.

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE AFFAIR

Miss Trade Wolf, a young woman employed at the Highland house, attempted to end her existence Sunday night with chloroform, and had nearly succeeded when discovered by Mr. Smith the proprietor of the house. Dr. M. A. Cunningham was called and after considerable hard work succeeded in saving her life and bringing her out from under the influence of the drug.

Disappointment in a love affair caused the young woman to try and end her existence. When she was coming out from under the influence of the drug she fought the doctor and begged them to let her die as she had nothing to live for.

She is now all right and at work again and will probably think twice before she again attempts to end her existence.

DIES ON GALLOW'S AFTER HARD FIGHT

Condemned Man Makes Break for Liberty Just Before Execution.

PASTOR IS KNOCKED DOWN.

Assaults Minister Praying in Cell and Takes Ax from Guard, but is Captured Before He Can Get Through Gate.

Mount Holly, N. J., Dec. 4.—Charles Braun, the murderer of Washington Hunter, an aged farmer, was hanged here after he had knocked down the clergyman who was praying for him in his cell and assaulted two of his keepers in an attempt to escape from the Burlington county jail. The murderer managed to get as far as the jail yard in his break for freedom, but was recaptured under the scaffold which had been built for his execution. He was hanged finally with iron on his wrists and ankles as a precaution against second attempt to get away. The Rev. J. C. Dizinger, the minister whom he assaulted an hour before, stood with him on the scaffold, praying, when the drop fell. Mr. Dizinger is the pastor of the German Lutheran church at Camden and has no official connection with the jail here. He has been to see the prisoner almost daily since he learned three weeks ago that Braun was a German. The clergyman entered Braun's cell just before 9 o'clock in the morning. The two men, shook hands and then sat beside each other on the prisoner's cot. The cell door was left ajar after the minister got there, which seemed to be the usual custom with Warden Fleetwood. Braun began the conversation with the question that he had asked the clergyman on each of his visits, if there was any hope of a pardon. Dizinger told him that he was to die in an hour and that there was no hope.

Knocks the Preacher Over.
"Will Young die too?" asked Braun. Young was an accomplice in the Hunter murder and was sentenced to die on the same day, but he got a stay. "Not today," replied the clergyman. Then the prisoner stamped back and forth in his cell, cursing the man who had helped him kill Hunter, but who was going to escape the penalty for a little while longer at least. The Rev. Mr. Dizinger is about 70 years old. "The man was quiet enough, but his mind was set on something all the time," said Dizinger afterward. "He was planning his escape of course. Without trying any other words of my own I took out my Bible and began to read the fifty-first psalm: 'Have mercy on me, O God, according to thy loving kindness.' Then I began to pray. Although my eyes were shut I was conscious of everything he was doing. I knew that he had stopped his pacing for a second at the head of his bed. I heard him fumbling with the blanket, and then I was pushed over violently against the cell wall. I was not hurt, but before I could recover from astonishment the man was out of the cell and running down the corridor toward the door."

Took Ax from Guard.
Braun escaped to the yard. He headed for the gate, and to reach it by a straight line he had to pass under the gallows that had been built for him. A prison trusty with an ax in his hands was tinkering at the gallows at the time, and testing the four posts that supported the platform. Braun took the ax away from the trusty and hurried on toward the gate. By that time Sheriff Fenton, Warden Fleetwood and the death-watch men had all got into the yard. Braun was ten feet away, and each of them had a revolver pointed at him. Fenton said he would shoot if Braun touched the gate. The murderer darted back under the gallows. He had little time to think what he would do next, but he decided. He raised the ax and with a good woodman's stroke sent the blade two inches into one of the posts of the gallows. He was getting ready for a second stroke when the sheriff and warden and the death-watch pair advanced a few feet and again threatened to shoot. It was a case of dying then and there under the gallows or of waiting half an hour and going through the hole in the wall with a rope around his neck. Braun stepped out of the battery of revolver, and the murderer returned to his cell. He lost his nerve at that. He dropped the ax and walked toward his captors and surrendered. While three of them kept him covered with their revolvers, the fourth put iron on his wrists and also on his ankles. Then he was taken back to his cell and dressed in the black suit that he was to die in. The iron were not removed until he was dead.

Trolley Car Plunges Into River.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 4.—A trolley car on the line of the Poughkeepsie & Wappinger Falls Street Railway Company slid down the icy rails on Main street hill, dashed out on the dock at the rate of sixty-five miles an hour and plunged into the Hudson river. There were five passengers aboard the car, and one of them, supposed to be B. Baruth, a dry goods salesman of New York, is believed to have been drowned in the car. The conductor and one man jumped to the dock. The others who were carried into the river were rescued with difficulty.

Baby's Coming

McDonald, Ga., July 18, 1900.
I advise every suffering woman to take Wine of Cardui. While I was going with my other children I was compelled to stay in bed for days at a time, but this time I have taken Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught and have been able to do all my housework without any trouble. I am expecting every day to be confined. My husband thinks Wine of Cardui is the best medicine in the world. He takes a dose of Thedford's Black-Draught every night and gives some to the children. He has not lost a day from work this year. He tells his friends about your wonderful medicines and I tell my lady friends to use your Wine of Cardui.
Mrs. GEORGIA LEM.

WINE OF CARDUI

There are thousands of women who shrink in terror at the thought of the baby's coming. But childbirth is one of the workings of Nature and it was not intended to imply torture and agony to the heroic mothers of the race. The woman who suffers torture during pregnancy and at childbirth has usually, by some indiscretion, injured the organs which make her a woman. Neglect of menstrual irregularities leads to ovarian pains, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and the period of pregnancy is necessarily distressing under those conditions. Wine of Cardui will regulate the menstrual function perfectly and eventually make the generative organs strong and healthy. Pregnancy and childbirth have no terrors for the woman who takes this pure Wine. A strong healthy womb will bring its precious burden to maturity with little or no pain. A healthy woman need not fear childbirth. Wine of Cardui completely cures all these troubles familiarly known as "female diseases" and equips the sensitive generative organs for pregnancy and childbirth. It will save any mother much pain and suffering. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS IN ROYAL MANNER

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene T. Fish Give a Party in Honor of M. C. Fish and His Bride.

Last evening at their pleasant home, 355 Ravine street, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene T. Fish entertained about twenty friends in royal manner, the party being given in honor of the host's brother, Malachi C. Fish and his bride, who were married in Chicago on Thanksgiving night. While the object of the pleasant reunion was solely to welcome the bride and groom, by a happy coincidence it became a double celebration, yesterday being the anniversary of the birth of Mrs. E. T. Fish.

Invitations were issued for 6:00 o'clock and as the guests arrived they were received cordially by Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Fish assisted by their sister, Miss Phoebe Fish. With mock formality the guests were then ushered into the parlor where the guests of honor were stationed and to whom each guest was introduced in turn. As both Mr. Fish and his bride were well acquainted with all of those present, this formal ceremony created a great deal of amusement.

As soon as all the guests arrived an elegant wedding supper was served and here again the host and hostess insisted on a formal program. A triumphal wedding march was arranged on the spur of the moment and the bride and groom led a gay procession of attendants to the supper tables, to the music of the wedding march sung by the chorus of bridal attendants. It was a merry time and the fun lasted until the supper hour and the delightful evening which followed.

The tables at which the supper was served were prettily decorated with carnations and the menu was elaborate and delicious in quality. The parlors were handsomely decorated with an abundance of great chrysanthemums in a variety of beautiful colors which blended harmoniously and effectively.

After ample justice had been done the wedding feast, cards were produced and the balance of the evening was devoted to playing cinch, the game merely serving as a center for the happy conversation and good natured jokes which formed a large part of the evening's pleasure.

MRS. BONINE'S DEFENSE.

Strong Point Brought Out in the Examination of Witnesses.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4.—The purpose of the defense in the Bonine case is to show that the curtain in Ayres' room was drawn up from the inside, thus spilling the theory of the government that Ayres was killed by a jealous woman who had climbed the fire escape and entered the window as he slept. Several witnesses have stated that the blood on the curtain showed a thumb-mark on the inside and a finger-mark on the side toward the street. This would clearly indicate that the curtain was raised after the killing, which is precisely what Mrs. Bonine asserted in her statement to the Chief of Police.

Says He Bribe Jurors.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—James J. Lynch told the details of jury bribing to the jurors in the Sullivan trial in one of the fiercest cross-examinations ever conducted in the criminal court.

"Lynch, how much money did you receive in all from Alexander Sullivan during the two years he was attorney for the West Chicago Street Railroad?" asked the prosecuting attorney.

"I should say about $6,000 or $7,000." "And you used all of this in bribing jurors?"

"Yes, only I kept a share of it for myself. My share was generally just what I paid the juror."

The questioning was then directed to the financial condition of Lynch at the time the alleged jury bribing was going on. Lynch testified that at the time of his arrest he had in a safety deposit box about $5,000. The defense tried to show that he could not possibly have saved this money, and that the inference would be that Lynch had received corrupt money from persons other than Mr. Sullivan.

Youngest Suicide in World.

St. Joseph, Mich., Dec. 4.—In the village of Bridgeman, near this city, Peter Gonder, aged 7 years, took a pistol from a bureau and shot himself below the heart, the bullet taking a downward course and lodging in the stomach. The attending physician says that the victim cannot survive the night. His death will record the youngest suicide in the history of the state and perhaps in the world. A scolding from his grandmother is said to have prompted the deed.

Coronation May Be June 26.

London, Dec. 4.—The Westminster Gazette says the date of the coronation has been fixed for June 26.

Heart Beats

that are too fast or too slow, too strong or too weak, are not the kind that come from a healthy heart. Remember, every heart that pains, flutters, palpitates, skips beats, and every heart that causes fainting spells, shortness of breath or smothering, is weak or diseased, and cannot keep the blood circulating at its normal rate.

"My heart was very weak and kept skipping beats until it missed from one to three beats a minute. Well, knowing what the result would be if this trouble was not stopped, I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and two bottles brought the heart action to its normal condition."
